City Hires New Building Inspector

JOHNSTON, Iowa – The City of Johnston welcomes new building inspector Eric Clark. Eric began his new position with the City on Monday, Dec. 6, 2021.

“Eric is a well-qualified individual with many years of experience,” said Adam Ostert, Building Official. “He comes to us with a strong foundation of code review and over 20 years of experience in the construction industry. As development continues to occur in Johnston, I look forward to the value he will add to our team through the inspection process.”

Eric was previously employed with Polk County as the Building Code Officers.
