Engagement Skills Trainer (EST) 2: An indoor, multipurpose simulator for weapon training events, leading to live-fire individual/crew weapon qualification.

Live-Fire Shoot House: Firing ranges that are set up to simulate a residential or commercial environment that can train law enforcement or military agencies in several combat scenarios. Participants use live fire weapons with the walls built to absorb the rounds fired.

Military Operations on Urban Terrain (MOUT): Defined as all military actions that are planned and conducted on terrain where man-made construction affects the tactical options available to the command.

Small Arms Range: Used for zeroing and qualification of all individual weapons, including rifles, shotguns, and pistols.

Leadership Reaction Course: The course is a series of team problems requiring problem-solving skills, teamwork, and physical ability which helps Soldiers hone their self-confidence and discipline.

Gold Star Museum: The museum's mission is to honor and depict the military experience of Iowa citizens in all wars, homeland defense, and Iowa service. Its purpose is to collect, preserve, and exhibit materials which illustrate the story of Iowa's military past from statehood to the present.

185th Regiment Training Institute (RTI): Established in 1957, the RTI conducts its weekend assemblies, special schools, and annual training at this State owned facility. Emphasis is placed on the development of leadership for all students through classroom instruction, field exercises, and evaluations in leadership roles.

Pool Pavilion: Once the third-largest pool complex in the world, the pool pavilion is used primarily as classroom space for multi-purpose training or instruction. Available to public for rent. The building comes with 25 tables and 175 chairs. (Max. Cap. 200)

Dodge House: Originally built as an officer's mess hall, this facility is now used for receptions, meetings, and classroom space. Available to public for rent. (Max. Cap. 90)
